NO NORTH, NO SOUTH, NO EAST, NO WEST
UNDER THE CONSTITUTION; BUT A SACRED MAINTENANCE OF THE COMMON BOND, AND TRUE DEVOTION TO THE COMMON BROTHER-HOOD.—FRANKLIN PIERCE.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1852.

Judge Douglas, in his speech in the court house, alluded to Cuba. The purport of his remarks was, that Cuba was coming; whether desirable to himself or others, or not. They may favor or approve it, but the progress of events can not be arrested. The allusion to the subject produced a storm of applause which showed the pulse beat in the audience.

Of course the whig organ here felt shocked,
and read a hasty on the depravity of locoforos in general, and of Douglas in particular. We must give his comments:

Mr. Douglas called for the annexation of Cuba and proceeded to argue his case.

He said, "that must be an absolute and republic, and that I mean is that we must have the whole continent and bear sway to the centre of the main channel of the ocean on either side, if we are to be safe."

Douglas was a confirmed and obstinate adherent of the Whig party.

When an American Senator feels a desire to stake his political fortunes upon a system of general rapine, a system that would sell the laws of nations and the entire public sentiment of the civilized world at open defiance, and that would at once hand us all the countries of the earth, in the hands of the greatest of democratic traitors, running wild throughout the land. We believe it is universally understood, that, in case Pierce shall be elected, Douglas is to hold a very high, at the very highest, place under him, and the American people will judge for themselves what would probably become of the Republic if such measures were to be adopted.

The Senate and before the election,

Mr. Douglass, who was at his father's bedside during his illness and at his death, has written two letters explaining his own position, and denies the truth of a rumor that his father had advised him to vote for Gen. Scott, but he does not say that Mr. Clay expressed his approbation of Scott's nomination.

He added nothing in saying that no sensible man in Kentucky, of either party, gives the least credit to this preposterous story concocted
by Mr. Sevier, so utterly inconsistent with Mr.
Clay's well known political views and predilections. No whig paper in Kentucky has vented to give it even the scutum of its objects of contumely and persecution.

River News.

The Kentucky No. 2 will be repaired and placed in the Green river trade immediately.

John Anderson, the attentive mail agent on the Lady Pike, will be here for Cincinnati and Madison papers.

The Union, a new boat for the Chaitshochee river trade, will be here today.

The Cincinnati and Mayville packets have resumed their trips.

The workers engaged on the Telegraph No. 2 could not get her in top-order to come out yesterday, as we expected. She will be out on Saturday night, looking as bright as a new dollar.

The following were the current rates for freight at Cincinnati on Monday. To Pittsburg, $20 for pound freights, and 75¢ for whiskey. To St. Louis, 40¢ for pound freights, and 75¢ for oil. To New Orleans, 40¢ for pound freights, $1 for whisky, and 60¢ for flour; dry goods to Memphis, with charges, 60¢.

The mail boat was detained again yesterday morning by the fog.

The Southern Belle and Magnolia have gone into the New Orleans and Vickburg trade.

Capt. Frank Johnson calls his new Nobile and Montgomery packet Sam Blue.

The Rambler left last evening with a crowd of passengers.

The democrats of Bethlehem, Clark county Ind., intend raising a pole—one higher than any of their neighbors—on next Wednesday, Sept. 29th, 1852.

They invite all to come and participate with them.

Another Great Democratic Gathering.

We expected yesterday a few hundred to attend the call of the ladies to the sequel of the Democratic barbecue. Four or five ladies of the upper wards had prepared refreshments for the 15th, but the rain prevented their attendance, and they had too much zeal in the cause to be foiled in their purpose. They gave notice of a Pic Nic yesterday in Preston's woods.

They expected a few hundred, but were greeted by the gathering of as many thousand.

Preparations for a dinner for such a crowd were not made, of course, but the calling seemed unthought of. The multitude entertained themselves, in talking, dancing, and hearing speeches. A company of artillery, and a fine band of musicians were on the ground, and did ample justice to the occasion.

For our own part, we could not get near enough the stand to hear the speeches. The enthusiastic responses of the crowd showed their effect; amid the stirring interests of the occasion, C. J. Kern, and his fine troupe of cavalry appeared on the ground, in the afternoon, and made a fine display.

The ladies had a pyramid of cake surmounted by a flag on which was inscribed: "The ladies of the First Ward, the Banner Ward of Louisville," and the names of "Pierce and King."

The young democracy of the Eighth Ward were there with an appropriate banner.

This gathering we owe to four or five democratic ladies. The democracy of this city will remember them with gratitude. With such an example, will a democrat of Louisville fail to be at his post. When the ladies, "God bless them," lead the way who will falter?

A whig orator in Jeffersonville, night before last, disgusted all decent men by his vulgarity and blackguardism in the presence of ladies who were listening to his speech.

The late heavy rains have prostrated the corn in the country, causing a heavy loss to the owners.

The Cincinnati Nonpareil learns that Judge Warden, of the Citizen, has purchased Sam Pike's paper, the Gavinton Flag.

A box with $21,000 of San Francisco ten per cent. bonds in it, was lost in a ferry boat in New York, last week.

A couple of Baltimore fire companies got up an extensive fire on the 13th, in which a couple of fellows got their beauty spoiled.

The train, out from Cleveland to Pittsburgh, on Thursday evening, had fifty two cars, in it, full of passengers.

A man named Berry was shot and killed on Wednesday night, while stealing potatoes from a lot in Cleveland, owned by a German named Ploof.

It is rumored that the gallant Smith O'Brien is gradually sinking under the cruel treatment of the minnows of English power, and his death may be soon expected.

Booth, the tragedian, was playing to crowded houses in San Francisco at last accords.

The first importation of ice direct from Boston, via Cape Horn, had been received at Panama, and was selling at 15 a 20 cents per lb.

Col. Preston, having been nominated for Congress, has resigned his post as Whig elector. Chas. S. Morehead has been appointed to fill his place.

The attention of the community, and those who admire the progress of manufactures in our city, is called to the certificate and seals of the Ky. State Fair, which awarded the premium for rice bars, to Messrs. Pollard, Prester & Smith of this city.

Gen. John E. Wool, accompanied by Adj de camp Lieut. Tallmadge, is now in Mayville, awaiting the arrival of Gen. Scott and Surgeon Gen. Lawson, commissioned to select a site for a Military Asylum for disabled soldiers. They are going to examine the eligibility of the Blue Licks.

A good story is told of Mr. Buckner, the Jailer of Jefferson county—it is too good to be lost. It seems that a young man had been placed in jail under his charge who had been arrested for stealing, and as he looked like one unaccustomed to crime, the sympathies of Mr. Buckner moved in his behalf. After some deliberation he ventured to ask his new guest what he had stolen a mill and went back for the dam and that the officers took him.

Something new under the Sun.

On Tuesday evening, the 28th inst., the Musical Association of this city, comprising twenty-five performers of the best musical talents, will give a Grand Prize Concert at Mozart Hall, at which will be distributed to the audience a valuable Silver Tea Set, Gold Watch, and other articles of jewelry. The person who is fortunate enough to obtain a silver Tea Set, or a Gold Watch, (saying nothing of the musical entertainment) for one dollar, may be considered one of the lucky ones.

The Cadet. The Drennon Cadet, for September, is before us, and it certainly does great credit both to the students and Professors of the college; to the former, because it shows the writers have capacity and have exerted it; and to the latter, because it is obvious they have given the instructions necessary to the improvement of the writers.

The publications in this form, of the products of the students must certainly have a good effect. But the combination of the Military Institute with all its executors and order, and the study of law in the regular collegiate course, is, we apprehend, the great cause of the popularity of this college. A young man educated on this plan, is when his course is completed, fit for any avocation in life; whereas they are often turned out of other colleges with diplomas fit for nothing. Its present session we understand has been opened with about double the number of any former year.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

GEN. W. S. PILCHER, will address the citizens of the Eighth Ward, at Woofle's Main street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, on THIS EVENING. Let every democrat be on hand.

The Democracy of Jefferson County are requested to meet in Jeffersontown on Saturday, the 25th inst., for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the Convention at LeGrange, Saturday, October 2nd.

POLE RAISING.

The democrats of Bethlehem, Clark county Ind., intend raising a pole—one higher than any of their neighbors—on next Wednesday, Sept. 29th, 1852.

They invite all to come and participate with them.

My Mother.

BY JOHN M'CAUTHY.

Dusk is the night, and will the sea,

The tempest round me gathers,

And I am wretched for fear; three,

Sweat and tears are on my brow,

But still dreams in my soul,

No storm nor fear can smother;

And clothe in love, before mine eyes,

Unceasing.

The pale garb, the widow's shroud,

Thy sweet cheek suddenly shading;

And death's cold hand, the hand of love,

Unceasing.

Bright thoughts lie brooding on that brow,

Where sleep left but left no sorrow;

For faith and love have brightened now,

The dark scene of life.

Oh! that I had a heart to bleed all,

Even to the heart's last drop,
